Polyglass® USA Develops Continuing Education Program for Industry Professionals

(Fernley, Nevada) – Polyglass® USA, a leading manufacturer of SA self-adhesive roofing membranes utilizing ADESO® Technology, in conjunction with Ron Blank & Associates, Inc. has developed a continuing education program discussing the advantages of self-adhesive membranes over traditional roofing products.

Titled “Advances in Membrane Roofing,” the web-based, self-study course features a final exam that allows course takers to earn one Learning Unit under the Health, Safety & Welfare section of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) Continuing Education Program. Upon successful completion of the course, a certificate of completion will be sent to the test taker via email.

Topics to be addressed within the course include: the advantages of self-adhesive membranes with advanced adhesive technology compared to conventional materials, new products based on advanced adhesive technology, as well as the latest trends and innovations in roofing material selection. Polyglass’ knowledge and experience in the self-adhesive industry are unmatched. As the original manufacturer of SA self-adhesive membranes utilizing ADESO Technology, Polyglass has proven itself to be an expert in the field of advanced adhesives.

Polyglass’ SA self-adhesive membranes are manufactured utilizing glass fiber or polyester reinforcement, with a “true” APP, SBS and TPO modified bitumen compound on the top surface and an aggressive self-adhesive compound on the bottom surface. The self-adhesive properties of these unique membranes provide an alternative to traditional adhesives, hot asphalt or propane torch applications.
